Working Groups are volunteer-led and organized by geographic location or affinity. They work together on Third Act's major campaigns and dedicate time to local issues and partnerships.

Groups meet and host online events, and many members also participate in protests, public hearings, voter registration, and community events together. Find your niche and make new friendships along the way. We believe that the more fun we have, the more we'll accomplish!

SENIORS WORKING TOGETHER FOR OUR CLIMATE & DEMOCRACY

TH!RD ACT

NETHERLANDS

NO T!ME TO WASTE!

We're a movement of Americans over sixty determined to leave a safer planet for future generations. Together, we harness our experience and structural power as elders to safeguard our climate and democracy.

What We Do

Leveraging the lifelong skills of volunteers, we carry out campaigns to uphold voting rights; strengthen clean energy policies; and end financial investments in the fossil fuel industry.

What we do now determines the world we leave for generations to come.

Whether writing postcards to voters or taking action in the street, we put joy and community at the center of our work—and we back up the youths!

Why Americans Over 60?

We've discovered a largely untapped source of power that can stand up to both Washington and Wall Street. Our generation is often stereotyped and left out of progressive conversations, but there is power in numbers.

There are more than 70 million Americans over 60, and that number grows by 10,000 every year. We also hold 2/3 of the nation's wealth. And we vote. Always.

We demand change not just for older people—for people of all ages and the earth we inhabit.
